

Full Stack Engineer - AI Systems - Lisbon,
Portugal

16,000

job postings screened per run, across dozens of boards, in Node with zero dependencies — full-time, salary band, and whether I am actually eligible.

Every accept and reject records the sentence that caused it.

- So the filter can be audited, not trusted

- Reading that output found four rules in my own code that were quietly wrong

- One read equity grants as base salary — a $190k role looked like $24k

- It is also how I found this job

What I bring, and what I don't.

I HAVE

- Their stack: typescript, python, llm
- Projects built beyond any curriculum
- A year of client work entirely in English
- B.E. Artificial Intelligence & Data Science, 2025

I DON'T, YET

— THE ASK

Twenty minutes.

Not the strongest candidate on paper. A strong one on evidence of building things nobody asked for.
